Anyone one who is aware of Wal-Mart's practices of disrespect for their employees has to be horrified at the implications of a WAL-MART BANK!

For example, Wal-Mart does not allow their employees to take a lunch break and then tells them to work extra hours without pay. If you do not like it, you can go work elsewhere as far as they are concerned. Anyone trying to form a union gets fired immediately. Lunch breaks and overtime are rights that workers fought for years ago and are now law.

Wal-Mart offers no health insurance and encourages their employees to get food stamps and Medi-Cal! That money comes out of the community already.

Wal-Mart also has played military recruiting ads on their many tvs all day long. It is part of the military industrial complex which dominates the world, making billions of dollars yearly forcing many smaller and more community friendly stores to go bankrupt. Military recruiters outright lie to people and look into personal files to get information about them so as to act as a friend. The recruiters promise young kids heaven and they are sent into a hellish war that is both illegal and immoral. Ask some parents of dead soldiers or soldiers who have returned damaged forever physically and or mentally with severe PTSD(Post Traumatic Stress Disorder), how what they were told about all the benefits they would receive and the reality of their parents having to buy proper protective gear for them because the military does not provide it! Wal-Mart propagates these lies.

Wal-Mart is bad news no matter how one looks at it. It is an example of how corporations lie and mistreat people just as those now in power have done and continue doing to the American people as well as people all over the world.

WAKE UP AMERICA. Your rights and money are being stolen from you more and more every day. Stop watching tv and tune into some real journalism on listener sponsored radio stations---especially Pacifica stations--- who are not supported by corporations who dictate what is shown and heard. The government likes to keep people ignorant and numb. But people are becoming aware of this and are educating themselves and reading books that tell us what is really going on in the world. It is time to stop the lying, spying and dying and totake back the powers that are rightfully ours by nature of the Constitution.
